PROGRAM OVERVIEW AND GUIDELINES

- The School of Policy, Government, and International Affairs (SPGIA) Graduate Internship Program provides an opportunity for you to gain professional experience and skills that will complement your academic program and enhance your career opportunities. The program also is intended to support area organizations by allowing employers to work with graduate students in an effort to increase recruiting success.

- The internship program is open to all degree-seeking SPGIA Master’s students who have completed a minimum of 12 credits of required coursework with a minimum cumulative 3.0 GPA.

- The School of Policy, Government, and International Affairs reserves the right to deny internship placements.

- Students are permitted to apply a maximum of 3 credit hours of internship toward graduation. Students completing the internship credit must enroll in ITRN 780 or PUBP 794, based on their degree program.

- During mid-semester, SPGIA Career Services will check in with you and your employer to ensure that your internship is of benefit to both of you. If you or your supervisor would like an in-person site visit, to assist in the continued development and quality of the internship experience, one can easily be arranged.

- Internships must:
  - Be a minimum of 300 hours of work. Work hours should be completed over a maximum of 15 weeks.
  - Require application of the skills acquired in the graduate program.
  - Include work that is appropriate for graduate level students and be of importance to the sponsoring organization.
  - Not be at a current place of employment.

Important Steps and Information for International Students

- International students seeking to complete an internship for academic credit, especially if you are in the MPP or ODKM program, which requires an internship for degree completion, need to seek an internship once they have completed two semesters worth of course work. It is important to contact Duane Bradshaw, Director of Career Development, to plan for your internship and prepare for the search and application process. He can be reached at <dbradsha@gmu.edu>.

- International students in the MPP and ODKM program should not wait until their last term to complete an internship for academic credit. Obtaining an internship is not guaranteed. As an internship is required for these programs, the inability to complete the internship requirement before graduation could jeopardize degree completion and visa status.

- If you are a student on an F-1 visa, and you have a paid internship opportunity, you must be authorized for off-campus employment before beginning a paid internship position.

- F-1 students must be full-time students for one academic year before they become eligible for off-campus work authorization.

- To be authorized, you must have work authorization noted on page 3 of your I-20 by the Office of International Programs and Services (OIPS) for the period of time of the internship.
  - Violating the regulations of your visa by working without authorization, even accidentally, is a very serious offense that can result in the revocation of your F-1 visa status.

- If your I-20 has not been stamped within three days of your registering for the internship class, your enrollment in the internship class will be suspended. Please make sure that your I-20 indicates that you are authorized to work in the United States.

- Any questions or uncertainties about this process, or other processes that involve your F-1 visa status, should immediately be addressed to the Office of International Programs and Services at (703) 993-2970.
Special note to students enrolled in the Master of Public Policy (MPP) or Master of Science – Organization Development and Knowledge Management (ODKM):

The MPP and ODKM programs require that all students complete a three-credit internship if they do not have two years of relevant work experience. It is important to contact Duane Bradshaw, Director of Career Development, if you have concerns about this requirement. He can be reached at <dbradsha@gmu.edu>.

If you have a minimum of two years’ relevant work experience and would like to apply for a waiver of the internship, please see the Internship Waiver Packet, available online at http://spgia.gmu.edu/career/.

Goals/Objectives:
The School of Policy, Government, and International Affairs (SPGIA) internship program is an important aspect of students’ professional development and leadership skills. The practical experience gained is expected to complement and enhance the academic program. In addition, the program should expand students’ career choices and employment opportunities.

Learning Outcomes:
Students will be able to apply public policy, public administration, academic knowledge and skills in a supervised work setting (i.e. government, non-profit and private firm organizations). They will demonstrate continued enhancement of professional, leadership and networking skills during the internship.

Submission of Class Papers/Presentations:
All paper proposals, paper drafts and presentation slides must be submitted to Internship Faculty Director in hard copy, not e-versions.

Requirements:
1. Two class meetings – presentation and discussion format:
   - Meeting One – Monday, June 6th, 2016, 1:30-4:10pm
     Discuss the organizational structure of your place of employment, supervisory relationships, and internship assignment.
   - Meeting Two – Monday, August 1st, 2016, 12:30-4:10pm
     Formal presentation of the internship paper

2. Attend three career information or professional development sessions. A complete listing of SPGIA sessions will be available from Duane Bradshaw, Director of Career Development. Attendance must be documented and confirmed by Duane Bradshaw using the SPGIA Career Information and Professional Development Attendance Form located in this packet in Appendix A, page 15. Sessions can be completed by a number of methods:
   a. SPGIA career development workshops
   b. Professional development/training workshops at your internship site
c. Two informational interviews to replace one workshop – this can be used to replace only one workshop. You would conduct two informational interviews of people who work at your internship site. What does their work entail? How does that contribute to the overall goals of the organization? Do they have suggestions of skills you could develop that would make you a better professional in the field? You will need to submit a synopsis of what was discussed (1-2 paragraphs per interview).

d. Professional conference – if there is a conference you attend for work, this could be used. When thinking of a workshop it takes place for one hour. So, if this is an all-day conference, it could be used to fulfill all of the workshop requirements. You need to email a description of the conference and materials from the conference showing you attended.

e. Professional association network events – associations in the area offer networking events, speakers and panels. This can be used to fulfill a workshop requirement. You need to email a description about the event and materials from the event showing you attended.

f. University Career Services workshops – UCS offers workshops on the Fairfax campus. These workshops can be used to fulfill the workshop requirement. You will need to submit materials collected for the workshop to show attendance. NOTE – these workshops tend to be more undergraduate focused and may not be relevant to your professional development needs.

3. Internship final paper and presentations

Paper Guidelines
- Your final internship paper (approximately 10 pages) relates your workplace experience in a professional development context.
- You may use relevant literature and SPP course syllabi to support your topic. This paper is not a discussion of what you did at your internship, but an in-depth synthesis of professional development skills gained from the internship experience. The internship faculty director will provide guidance regarding expectations and specifications of the final paper.
- DEADLINE: Final internship paper: Monday, August 1st, 2016

Presentation Guidelines
- All students will provide approximately an eight minute paper presentation, including questions and answers, during the final class meeting.
- Briefing slides and professional attire preferred.

4. Internship Supervisor Final Evaluation and Student Final Evaluation

- The Supervisor Final Evaluation form is located in this packet in Appendix A, page 16.
- Your workplace supervisor must submit a final evaluation of your performance that will be used to determine your final grade. Please be sure to schedule time to meet with your supervisor to ensure that your evaluation is submitted by the last day of class.
- The Student Final Evaluation form is located in this packet in Appendix A, page 17.
- DEADLINE: Internship supervisor and student final evaluations: Monday, August 1st, 2016

5. Final Presentation Materials – two hard copies of the following materials must be submitted at the presentation on Monday August 1st, 2016:
- Internship Paper
- SPGIA Career Information and Professional Development Attendance Form
- Internship Supervisor Final Evaluation Form
- Student Final Evaluation Form
Grading:

- The Internship Faculty Director will assign the final grade of “satisfactory” or “no credit.” All of the assignments must be completed to receive a satisfactory grade.
- Turn in all assignments to the Internship Faculty Director who will assign grades. It is your responsibility to ensure that all documents are submitted by the appropriate deadlines.

Academic Accommodation for a Disability

If you are a student with a disability and you need academic accommodations, please see me and contact the Disability Resource Center (DRC) at 703-993-2474. All academic accommodations must be arranged through the DRC.

SPGIA Policy on Plagiarism

The profession of scholarship and the intellectual life of a university as well as the fields of policy, government, and international affairs inquiry depend fundamentally on a foundation of trust. Thus any act of plagiarism strikes at the heart of the meaning of the university and the purpose of the School of Policy, Government, and International Affairs. It constitutes a serious breach of professional ethics and it is unacceptable.

Plagiarism is the use of another’s words or ideas presented as one’s own. It includes, among other things, the use of specific words, ideas, or frameworks that are the product of another’s work. Honesty and thoroughness in citing sources is essential to professional accountability and personal responsibility. Appropriate citation is necessary so that arguments, evidence, and claims can be critically examined.

Plagiarism is wrong because of the injustice it does to the person whose ideas are stolen. But it is also wrong because it constitutes lying to one’s professional colleagues. From a prudential perspective, it is shortsighted and self-defeating, and it can ruin a professional career.

The faculty of the School of Policy, Government, and International Affairs takes plagiarism seriously and has adopted a zero tolerance policy. Any plagiarized assignment will receive an automatic grade of “F.” This may lead to failure for the course, resulting in dismissal from the University. This dismissal will be noted on the student’s transcript. For foreign students who are on a university-sponsored visa (eg. F-1, J-1 or J-2), dismissal also results in the revocation of their visa.

To help enforce the SPGIA policy on plagiarism, all written work submitted in partial fulfillment of course or degree requirements must be available in electronic form so that it can be compared with electronic databases, as well as submitted to commercial services to which the School subscribes. Faculty may at any time submit student’s work without prior permission from the student. Individual instructors may require that written work be submitted in electronic as well as printed form. The SPGIA policy on plagiarism is supplementary to the George Mason University Honor Code; it is not intended to replace it or substitute for it.
